Mayor Morrison's suggestion

Airport Road eyed to honour veterans

By Bill Rea

There's still has to be considerable consultation, but Peel Region staff is looking at designating Airport Road as a memorial highway to honour veterans and peace-keepers.

The idea was put forth last month by Mayor Marilyn Morrison, and Regional staff made a brief presentation at last week's council meeting.

Morrison, who has two sons in the military who have done tours in Afghanistan, was not at last week's meeting, but she said she was pleased to see things progressing. In fact, she said there are going to be discussions with officials in Dufferin and Simcoe Counties to see about extending the designation of the road to the north.

Although the plan is to apply the special designation to the road, Morrison said she understood there are no plans to change the official name, meaning people on the road won't be obliged to change their mailing addresses.

"It's not going to change the name from Airport Road," she stressed. "It's just going to be the Veterans' Memorial Highway."

She added it will be basically the same concept as The Highway of Heroes, which comprises a stretch of Highway 401.

Morrison said she thought for a while about having the designation applied to the soon to be completed Bolton Arterial Road. But the Region has already decided to name a section of the road after Regional Chair and CEO Emil Kolb.

"I didn't want to take that away from him," she said, adding the Airport Road idea is better.

In his presentation last week to Regional council, Public Works Commissioner Dan Labrecque commented that the request he received from Morrison was that this involve a road that runs through Caledon, as well as Brampton and Mississauga.

He also stressed this was not a simple issue, as it would "affect the emotions of a lot of people." He added there needs to be a thorough consultation process, including with officials of the Royal Canadian Legion, as well as other stakeholders.

Labrecque said the criteria for selecting such a road included it being an arterial with high visibility, as well as running through the three municipalities. Dixie Road and Mississauga Road were considered, but Airport Road was preferred, as he also pointed out it connects with the rest of the province to the north.

"Airport Road is it," he declared.

There would also have to be a decision on whether the designation should apply to the whole road, or just sections. But he also stressed there will be no move to change the official name.

"Airport Road will always be Airport Road," he said.

Labrecque also said there will have to be some discussion on whether there will be notable features to mark the road,

Headwaters getting positive reaction from Caledon community

By Bill Rea

Headwaters Health Care Centre officials are excited about a pending expansion to their Orangeville facility.

Hospital President and CEO Liz Ruegg gave Caledon councillors an update of the progress that's been made at the facility.

The issues she raised included financial ones, as she expressed a feeling that they are being penalized for being efficient.

Ruegg said "exceptional experience every time" is part of the vision they have for the hospital.

Although they have had to cut the number of beds from 87 to 83 to meet their budget, Ruegg said they have 607 staff, with 74 active and about 100 associated physicians. There are also about 275 volunteers.

The hospital has a annual operating budget of about $57 million.

She also said that in terms of community size, the emergency department at Headwaters is as busy as one in Toronto.

The community served by the facility has a population of about 135,000, and she said that population is rapidly aging. That will mean the coming years will see an increased need to coordinate services, such as when it comes to assisting people in their homes. As well, she said transportation issues in the community is another concern.

For the 2013-14 fiscal year, Ruegg said the hospital had a record 40,746 emergency visits and 5,658 inpatient admissions. There were also 17,356 outpatient visits, 743 babies delivered 153 heart attacks treated 1,018 chemotherapy treatments (an increase of about 24 per cent) and 586 cataract surgeries. She also said the number of outpatient visits has grown too.

As well, Ruegg said the ambulatory care, clinics and telemedicine services mean patients have been spared travelling a collective total of thousands of miles to facilities elsewhere, like Toronto.

Among other improvements have been the setting up of a satellite clinic with William Osler Health System to provide treatment for chronic kidney disease. That's operating twice a week and she's hoping that will increase.

She also pointed to the success of the Caledon Specialists Clinic, which has been operating in Bolton through partnership with the Central West Local Health Integration Network (LHIN) and Caledon Community Services (CCS).

"We're a highly efficient hospital," Ruegg declared, adding it's accredited with exemplary standing and has obtained Ontario Laboratory Accreditation. She also pointed to low emergency department wait times, commenting the hospital has ranked within the top three in Ontario in that regard three years in a row.

As well, Ruegg said the patient satisfaction ratings are high.

Ruegg said the plan for the next three years is to keep an eye on current trends and to work with partners like Osler and the Community Care Access Centre (CCAC) to continue providing high-quality, compassionate care.

But she also pointed out that there's no overall funding increase for hospitals expected for at least another two years, which means they're going to have to find another $1 million every April. As well, Ruegg pointed out about 19 per cent of the staff will be eligible to retire in the next five years, but added not everyone feels like retiring at 55 or 65.

She said they plan to keep making their case to the LHIN, as well as the Province, arguing the hospital is efficient and should be rewarded for that.

The facility has seen no expansion since 1997, Ruegg said, and they are looking to add on roughly 8,200 square feet. That will enable an increase in the number of patients they can get through the new orthopaedic surgeries. There will also be expanded oncology and chemotherapy programs, as well as a fourth operating room.

Ground breaking for the expansion is expected in January 2015.

Ruegg also expressed appreciation to council for donating some of the proceeds from their annual golf tournament to the hospital.

Mayor Marolyn Morrison was sympathetic to the financial issues, commenting that efficiently-run municipalities find it hard to get grant money. "They give it to the people who, I guess, are less efficient, shall we say."

Councillor Richard Paterak had praise for the efforts at Headwaters to make visiting a hospital a positive experience.

"Your staff really puts people at ease," he said.

Jobs Caledon Employment Specialists Dan Regliszyn and Maureen Tymkow flank Sandals Resorts Business Development Manager Michelle Lanoue.

From unemployment to success to be discussed at Jobs Caledon

Join Jobs Caledon tomorrow (Friday) from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. at the Royal Court-yards in Bolton for a motivational presentation featuring Michelle Lanoue of Sandals Resorts.

Lanoue will speak about her journey from being unemployed to seeking assistance from Jobs Caledon and Caledon Community Services (CCS), to obtaining her current job as a Business Development Manager.

With the assistance of Jobs Caledon, Lanoue is the Business Development Manager for South Western Ontario in the Travel and Tourism industry for Sandals Resorts. She has been with Sandals for more than five years.

She encourages all who have felt down and out of luck to listen to her experience and see how CCS can help them.

"If I didn't come here to get through these challenges, I wouldn't have been able to be where I am," she said. "You can't be too proud to ask for help."

Contact Jobs Caledon at 905-584-2300 or jobs@ccs4u.org to reserve a seat for this workshop.

The Jobs Caledon Employment Resource Centre is funded by Employment Ontario and is one of the many initiatives operated by CCS. As a community-impact organization, it supports residents of Caledon and surrounding communities.

The main office of CCS is at 18 King St. East in the Royal Courtyards, Bolton. For more information, visit www.ccs4u.org or call 905-584-2300.

Part of BAR named after Emil Kolb

By Bill Rea

Emil Kolb has spent many years serving the community, as a Township, Town and Regional councillor, as well as Mayor and Regional Chair since 1991.

He spent many of those years working on a bypass for Bolton, and he's soon going to be commemorated as part of it.

Peel Regional council recently voted to name the northwest portion of the new Bolton Arterial Road (BAR) Emil Kolb Parkway. The road, which is currently under construction, will run from King Street to Regional Road 50.

Caledon Councillor Allan Thompson, who chairs the public works committee of Regional council, presided over the vote.

"I think it's very fitting for a person who has been championing this for as long as I can remember," Thompson commented, as he asked for (and received) a unanimous vote.

Kolb said he had not been aware of what was in the works at the May meeting of the Arterial Roads Review Ad hoc Steering Committee. He said he was told during the meeting that he had a pecuniary interest on an upcoming item, so he agreed to the suggestion that he leave the room, although he admitted he was puzzled about the apparent conflict.

He was brought back into the room and was told what the stretch of road was going to be named.

"I was really surprised," he said. "I never ever expected anything like that to happen."

Kolb also reflected on how long it's taken for the road to reach this stage. He recalled the environment assessment started almost 30 years ago.

"It's taken a long time," he said, recalling the Town couldn't have afforded to do the job, but Peel was able to take it on as a Regional project.

He added it's going to be a benefit to the village.

The project is taking longer to complete than had been anticipated. Kolb said work on the new bridge delayed things because the piles had to go down 75 metres, rather than the 35 metres that had been planned.

such as gateways, monument, landscaping, signage or use of a Poppy logo (He said the Legion would have to be involved in discussions to use the Poppy).

As well, Labrecque warned this designation won't be coming into effect for a while. He estimated the summer or fall of 2015.

"Rushing it in two or three months is not feasible without upsetting important parts of the community," he said.

Councillor Richard Whitehead pointed to the need to stress to people along the road they will not have to change their mailing addresses.

"I've been thinking about this for a long time," Morrison commented earlier this week.

She added that at one point, there were 11 people who were either children or spouses of Caledon people going on tours in Afghanistan, as she called them "just wonderful young men and women."

"I just think that we should do something," she said, adding the response she received from councillors when she raised the idea was very positive.

Morrison also said she realizes this isn't likely to be accomplished while she's still in office (she is not running in this year's elections), but she asked Labrecque to let her know when it's done and if there's to be some ceremony. She said she would like to bring the parents of Trooper Marc Diab, who was killed in 2009 in Afghanistan. Her son Brad was there at the time was one of Diab's pallbearers.

Caledon OPP adds four new members to its auxiliary unit

The auxiliary unit of Caledon OPP welcomed four new members to their ranks June 20.

The 25-member unit continues to assist regular members by attending community events, hosting Child Car Seat Clinics, Community Policing initiatives and projects, regular patrol, crime and disaster scenes and large gatherings or parades for crowd and traffic control.

Training for the new members included a 60-hour recruit training course dealing with powers of arrest, OPP policy and procedures, radio training, note-taking, self-defence, use of force, traffic control and firearms training.

The mandate of the Provincial Auxiliary Program is to provide fully trained volunteer Auxiliary members to assist in the delivery of traffic safety and community-based crime prevention initiatives, and to perform police duties only in special circumstances, including an emergency that the police officers of the OPP are not sufficiently numerous to deal with.

“We are very pleased to welcome Auxiliary Constables McNeil, Grewal, Kular and Johnston to the Caledon Detachment,” commented detachment commander Inspector Tim Melanson. “Our Auxiliary members have great pride in the work they do to assist us in making Caledon a safer place to live and work.”

Caledon man facing several charges

A 33-year-old Caledon man is facing a number of charges after a July 4 incident in Bolton.

Caledon OPP reports they started an investigation into the sale of drugs. They said they had information regarding a suspect, including the fact he was bound by a recognizance order with numerous conditions, such as not being in the possession of drugs and weigh scales, and to remain at his residence at all times. Officers observed the suspect as a passenger in a vehicle travelling on Regional Road 50. They maintained observation as the vehicle returned to the suspect's home.

The officers approached the man outside his home, at which time he became unco-operative and a struggle ensued. Once under control, a search of the accused uncovered a quantity of drugs, believed to be heroin and digital scales.

The man was charged with possession of a schedule II substance, resisting a peace officer and three counts of breach of recognizance.

Learn to care for land and water with Credit Valley Conservation

Rural property owners will be able to find out how they can make the most of their land with guidance from Credit Valley Conservation (CVC).

CVC invites landowners to participate in its upcoming Caring for Your Land and Water workshop. The event takes place this Saturday (July 12) from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. at the Watershed Learning Centre inside Terra Cotta Conservation Area, 14452 Winston Churchill Blvd.

"These workshops are a great way for landowners to learn about rural property management," said CVC's Director of Restoration and Stewardship Mike Pudister. "We provide landowners with tools and information to make environmental improvements on their property."

To date, more than 500 landowners have participated in CVC's Caring for Your Land and Water and Caring for Your Horse and Farm workshops.

Each workshop explores a variety of topics including forest management, wetlands, septic systems, water wells and landscaping with native plants. Workshops are guided by Your Guide to Caring for the Credit; a handbook designed to help landowners assess their properties.

Lunch is provided at the workshop, and all participants receive custom aerial photos and maps of their property.

Workshops are free, owing to funding from CVC's regional and municipal partners. Interested landowners should reside in the Credit River watershed and own at least one acre of rural property.

Tire Junction in Bolton is having a sale on Sailun Tires in celebration of their sixth anniversary. The sale starts July 18.

Tire Junction gears up for a big sale

By Angela Gismondi
Tire Junction in Bolton is having a blowout sale on Sailun Tires to celebrate its sixth anniversary.

For one week, starting July 18, prices for all sizes and models will be drastically reduced, including tires for cars, light trucks and SUVs. There will also be sales on all-season and winter tires.

Tire Junction, located at 11221 Highway 50, is a dealer for Sailun Tires. A Sailun representative will be at the shop July 18 to kick-off the sale. Caps, T-shirts and promotional material will be given away throughout the week.

"This is a really special promotion with a huge savings on these tires," said Amar Uppal, owner of Tire Junction. "It's a really good quality tire and has received some great reviews."

Tire Junction specializes in all brands of new and used tires, tire rims, mechanical service for all makes and models and offers $19.99 oil changes for most cars. All the work is done on site. The shop was also one of the first Sailun dealers in Bolton. They also carry Firestone, Dunlop, Michelin, Goodyear, BF Goodrich and Hankook.

Uppal has been in the automotive industry for more than 25 years. Six years ago, he decided to open up shop in Bolton.

"I've always like this town," said Uppal. "I live close by and I like to do business locally."

Tire Junction in Bolton is open Monday to Friday from 9 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. For more information, call 905-893-9908 or 905-794-5642.

Time to check the watershed

Credit Valley Conservation (CVC) and Trout Unlimited invite the public to get their feet wet and learn more about the Credit River watershed next Saturday (July 19).

Volunteers are needed to monitor local streams as part of Check Your Watershed Day. The event will run from 1 to 4 p.m.

Check Your Watershed Day is an annual event held in Ontario since 2006. It is an opportunity for students and people interested in the environment to gain hands-on experience and participate in important research. Volunteers will record water temperatures, take photos of culverts and measure stream flow. The information collected builds a better understanding of the watershed and helps CVC plan stewardship activities to manage it.

"Streams are the lifeblood of our countryside," said CVC's Director of Restoration and Stewardship Mike Puddister.

"Monitoring their health is vital to the work we do to protect and enhance the environment. It's also an opportunity to view nature from a different perspective."

Pre-registration is required and volunteers should meet at Terra Cotta Conservation Area at 12:45 p.m. to receive training and pick up equipment. Participants will be organized into Stream Teams of two to four people to collect data. Volunteers must have good mobility. Participants will be asked to wear rubber boots or hip waders. Some access points to stream monitoring sites may be steep or unstable. Stream Teams will go to assigned sites in Orangeville, Caledon, Erin and Halton Hills. Certificates will be awarded to volunteers at the end of the event.

Participants must be 18 or older, unless accompanied by a parent. Each volunteer group will require a car to access their assigned sites, a digital camera and a cell phone. Register online at www.creditvalleyca.ca/event/check-your-watershed-day-2/ before July 15.

Space is limited. For further information, contact CVC's Lindsey Jennings at ljennings@creditvalleyca.ca or 905-670-1615, ext. 445.

Jones remains as Caucus chair under Wilson's leadership

Simcoe-Grey MPP Jim Wilson MPP has been elected interim leader of the Ontario Progressive Conservative Party by his fellow Caucus members.

Dufferin-Caledon MPP Sylvia Jones will remain as PC Caucus chair under Wilson's leadership.

"I think Jim will do a great job as interim leader of the Part," Jones said. "He has extensive experience both in government and the opposition."

Wilson was first elected to the Legislature in September 1990. Since then, he has fulfilled many roles, serving as an Opposition Critic; Deputy Speaker; Minister of Health, Minister of the Environment; Minister of Energy, Science and Technology and Minister of Northern Development and Mines.

"It is an honour that I have been asked to continue to lead Caucus meetings, and serve in a leadership role as our party begins the process of selecting a new leader," Jones said.

"I am pleased that Sylvia has agreed to continue to take on this responsibility," Wilson commented. "She is a good friend and is highly respected by every member of Caucus. As chair of Caucus, she has always demonstrated an ability to develop consensus, out of the diverse opinions present in Caucus. I have every confidence that she will continue to do an outstanding job as PC Caucus chair."

Public Notice

NOTICE OF STUDY COMPLETION

MISSISSAUGA ROAD / OLD MAIN STREET, BUSH STREET,
OLDE BASE LINE ROAD AND WINSTON CHURCHILL BOULEVARD

The Study

The Region of Peel has completed the Schedule 'C' Municipal Class Environmental Assessment (EA) to develop a road design that addresses safety, drainage, and pavement deficiencies on Mississauga Road / Old Main Street, Bush Street, Olde Base Line Road and Winston Churchill Boulevard. The approximate limits of the project area are illustrated on the map.

The map shows the study area bounded by Wellington Road 52 to the west, Bush Street to the north, Winston Churchill Boulevard to the east, and Olde Base Line Road to the south. It also shows Sideroad 10, Sideroad 5, and various other local roads like Shaw Creek Road, The Grange Side Road, and Belfountain Village.

The Process

The project team received input from interested stakeholders, the public and agencies at an Open House, two Public Information Centres, three Community Working Group meetings, and numerous agency and stakeholder meetings. The team evaluated road improvement alternatives, assessed the potential environmental effects of the proposed improvements and developed reasonable means to mitigate any adverse impacts.

Key Elements of the Recommended Design

The study recommends:

- A rural cross-section with paved shoulders and ditches for parts of Bush Street and Olde Base Line Road
- A semi-rural cross section with paved shoulders, mountable curbs and underground storm sewers for the remainder of the study area
- Parking and a sidewalk through parts of Belfountain Village
- Modest profile adjustments to improve sightlines

Environmental Study Report

An Environmental Study Report (ESR) has been prepared to document the planning and decision making process undertaken for this study. The results of the study will be available for review for 30 calendar days starting June 30, 2014 and ending July 29, 2014. The ESR is available for review at the following locations:

Comments

Please visit our website: peelregion.ca/pw/transportation/enviro-assess/mississauga-road-bush.htm for more information. Please provide written comments to Gino Dela Cruz within the 30-day review period. If the concerns cannot be resolved, you may request that the Minister of the Environment make an Order for the project to comply with Part II of the Environmental Assessment Act, which addresses individual environmental assessments. The Minister must receive requests for Part II Orders at the address below by 4:30 pm on July 29, 2014.

The Honourable Jim Bradley, Minister of the Environment
Ministry of the Environment, 77 Wellesley Street West, 11th Floor, Toronto, ON M7A 2T5

A copy of the Part II Order request must also be sent to:

Hunting for Heritage Apple Trees

When Caledon was settled in the 19th and early 20th Centuries, apple orchards were planted close to homes and farmsteads. There are still many old apple trees in Caledon, but they're scattered in back yards, along streams and trails or interspersed among new forests. For the past two years, Heritage Caledon has honoured a wide variety of heritage trees found around Caledon. This year, the focus is old apple trees or remnants of old orchards.
Do you know of any significant old apple trees that you can identify and nominate?
Please contact us by September 30, 2014 by email to trees@caledon.ca or by mail at Heritage Apple Tree and/or Orchard Nomination, Heritage Caledon, Town of Caledon, 6311 Old Church Road, Caledon, ON L7C 1J6 Attn: Pamela Vega

The Town of Caledon pays the school boards and the Region of Peel in four pre-determined installment dates.

- These obligated payments come out of the Town's own cash if taxpayers pay us late.
- If the Town of Caledon does not have sufficient cash flow to pay the Region of Peel, school boards, and to pay for the provision of services, we may have to borrow money in the short-term, which impacts all taxpayers.
- To minimize the impact to all taxpayers, late payment fees are applied only to accounts with unpaid taxes.

Arts & Entertainment

Find history and culture at PAMA throughout this month

The Peel Art Gallery, Museum and Archives (PAMA) offers something for everyone this month.

Whether one is a history buff looking for a lesson in Peel's past, an arts enthusiast ready to take up a new hobby, or a parent looking for a new adventure for their children, PAMA is the history and culture destination.

New and Continuing Exhibitions

Step Back — Look Forward will run from July 13 to Aug. 24, with an opening reception July 13 from 2 to 4 p.m. This will offer a glimpse into the history of Visual Arts Mississauga's contribution to making art in the region for the past 35 years, from grassroots art to being a catalyst to inspire and enrich the community.

Legacy: David Somers and PAMA's Works on Paper Collection is running until Aug. 31. This exhibition highlights the diversity of PAMA's Works on Paper Collection as it pays tribute to David Somers, curator and manager at PAMA from 1989 to 2009. From tranquil landscapes to exploding paper cuts, the visitor will be introduced to the work of 33 historical and contemporary artists, including Harold Klunder, Lizz Aston, Andy Warhol, Annie Pootoogook and Eric Glavin.

Spirit Seeds: A Celebration of First Nations Beadwork is on until Oct. 13. "Little Spirits," as they're known in some First Nation languages, are beautiful objects decorated with tiny glass beads. The tradition of beadwork began when Europeans brought enchanting glass beads as an item of trade, and continues today as an important part of Native life and artistic expression. This legacy is celebrated by sharing historical and contemporary objects and the stories they tell of the artisans who created them.

Touching Lives for 40 Years is on until December. Peel Region is celebrating its 40th anniversary this year, and PAMA is highlighting its rich history and achievements over the past four decades through a special exhibit. See photos, videos and artifacts that tell a story of the evolution of the Region and community.

PAMA is a place to explore and learn about Peel's culture and heritage, as well as use conversation, questions and stories to help make new and fascinating connections to the surrounding community. Throughout the year, PAMA offers a variety of workshops and programs for all ages, families and adults.

Operated by the Region, PAMA is at 9 Wellington St. E. in Brampton. Visit pama.peelregion.ca to learn more.

New recreation, arts and culture app launches for summer

The Peel Children and Youth Initiative (PCYI) and Microsoft Canada teamed up with eight program providers in Peel to launch Play in Peel at Century Gardens Recreation Centre in Brampton recently.

Play in Peel is a web app that curates recreation, arts and library programming across Caledon, Brampton and Mississauga into one place that can be accessed on a computer, tablet or smart phone.

The launch event featured a live app demonstration from Keith Loo, open platforms lead at Microsoft Canada, and two of PCYI's youth board members, Ryan Tilley and Maryan Osman. Donna-Lynn Rosa, director of recreation and culture public services with the City of Brampton, offered remarks as the launch event's hosting partner. In attendance were 25 Grade 8 leaders from Gordon Graydon Senior Public School in Brampton, as well as City Councillor Grant Gibson and Regional Councillor Elaine Moore.

Play in Peel has many features to offer a tailored user experience, including custom options, built-in walking directions and social sharing. Currently, the app features programming from various agencies, including Caledon Public Library. Play in Peel features programs for all ages.

"As a young person in Peel, I can attest to the fact that it is difficult to find out about all of the great activities that are out there," commented Tilley, a member of the Peel Children and Youth Initiative Youth Advisory Council. "Play in Peel is something that I can use easily on the bus after school to find out what's going on in my neighbourhood for people my age."

Play in Peel is rooted in PCYI's Peel's Kids Participate: A Recreation and After School Strategy 2013-18. Peel-based research shows that families consider awareness and registration to be barriers to participating in recreational activities. Play in Peel is one way the strategy is helping to improve access to recreation in Peel.

The app's sponsor, Microsoft Canada, is a leader in open data initiatives and this app sets a new precedent for the way recreation data can be opened, stored and standardized.

Impressive lineup at ASK Festival

Change up your summer! Meet some famous people in and around King Township at one of the ASK Festival King tours or events.

On Tuesday, July 15, travel to Kleinburg and meet painter Lawren Harris through his paintings hanging at the McMichael Gallery. A guided tour with insights into the man himself will be followed by lunch at the newly envisioned Cashew and Clive Cafe. A side trip to the grave site of Mr. Harris is also an option.

On Thursday, July 24 in Pottageville meet local sculptor Brett Davis and his mentor, William McElcheran through tales told by Davis with help from McElcheran's widow. McElcheran is best-known for his "businessman" sculptures in downtown Toronto. Enjoy lunch at the Pathways To Perennials outdoor patio, followed by a self-guided tour of Davis's sculptures and the surrounding gardens.

Garden Tour in King this Sunday

By John Arnott

*Fish gotta swim, birds gotta fly.
I gotta go on that garden tour in July.
Can't help lovin' that garden tour!
Tell me I'm crazy, tell me it could rain.
Tell me it might be hot and hazy.
Well I'm goin' just the same.
Can't help lovin' that garden tour!*

We just know you can't help but love Nobleton-King City Horticultural Society's Garden Tour this coming Sunday (July 13) from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., rain or shine.

You're sure to see unusual plants and a good variety that will give you ideas for your own garden. Horticultural members will be at each garden to identify plants and offer advice on what plants will do well (or won't) in your garden.

Tickets, in the form of a maps showing the garden locations, are $10 per person and available in advance in Nobleton, at the Pharmasave in Nobleton Plaza north of King Road on Highway. 27; in King City at Guardian Drugs in the King Township Offices plaza on King Road, east of Keele Street; as well as Black Forest Garden Centre on Keele Street just below Aurora Road; and in Caledon at Glen Echo Garden Centre on Airport Road, just south of Caledon East. Tickets will also be available at each garden on the tour. If you choose not buy a ticket to see all the gardens there is a charge of $2 per garden visited.

Annual Cruise for the Cure raises money, awareness for prostate cancer and Alzheimer's

By Mark Pavilons
The area's largest outdoor car show and star-studded event is coming to King Township July 20.

The fourth annual Cruise for the Cure car show and family festival raises money and awareness for Prostate Cancer Canada and the Alzheimer Society of Ontario.

It's likely one of the best shows in the country and if you visit only one car show this summer, make it this one.

Organizer Tim Schmidt said he expects upwards of 2,000 vehicles of all shapes and sizes — North American and imports. Some guests come from Quebec and even south of the border. Schmidt said a few of the collectors pick this as their one and only show, so visitors are in for a treat with many one-of-a-kind vehicles.

Visitors will also get the chance to stroll through Tim's workshop, home to his collection of automobiles, motorcycles, automotive collectibles and literally thousands of toy cars. It's the ultimate man cave.

Tim and Brenda Schmidt, in affiliation with ABC Group, one of the leading automotive systems and components manufacturers in the world, will be hosting their annual car show to raise money and awareness.

Tim, Brenda and Tim's mother Helga have hosted Tim and Brenda's Cruise for the Cure for the past three years. In 2011 at their first event, they raised $50,000 for Prostate Cancer Canada; in 2012 at the second annual Cruise they raised $70,000 for Prostate Cancer Canada and in 2013, they added a second charity, Shriner's Hospitals for Children-Canada and raised $112,000 for these charities.

This year's show is expected to attract more than 10,000 visitors.

Schmidt said he chose Alzheimer's this year because many of his "car buddies" are in the affected age group of men. Unfortunately, men can be stubborn when it comes to regular physical checkups. His late father also suffered from Alzheimer's.

"Alzheimer's is the most common form of dementia," said Helga Schmidt, president and CEO of ABC Group of Companies. "One in four people knows someone with Alzheimer's disease or dementia, and will be aware of the devastating impact it has on their lives, as it had on mine when my husband developed the disease. Our sponsorship will help in the research into the causes, cures and care for this condition and hopefully also towards helping the many people who look after these patients."

"It's very important that people with Alzheimer's are treated with respect and to remember that, despite their illness, a person with dementia is still a unique and valuable human being," she added. "When a person finds that their mental abilities are declining, they often feel vulnerable and in need of reassurance and support. The people closest to them — their caregivers, health and social care professionals, friends and family — need to do everything they can to help the person to retain their sense of identity and feelings of self-worth."

More than just your typical car show, Tim & Brenda's Cruise for the Cure is an event featuring live music, a children's carnival, raffles, food vendors, merchandise vendors, door prizes, awards, trophies, a guitar auction, special guests and more!

Nick Sinopoli of the Carpet Frogs and long-time friend of Tim's has collected signatures from legendary rock musicians. Alice Cooper, Steve Cropper, Burton Cummings, Richie Sambora, Danny "The Count" Koker, Stoney Curtis, John Zito, Paul Disbibio, Barry Barnes, The Trews Orianthi Panagaris, Neil Chapman, are just some of the more than 30 names on a rare 1994 Gibson J-55 up for grabs. It is one of only 100 made.

This magnificent guitar, with the priceless signatures, will be auctioned for charity. For more information or to bid on this piece of rock history, go to www.timandbrendasplace.com

Tim hopes this will attract a decent bid. It's really a priceless collector's piece.

The fundraiser takes place on Tim and Brenda's 200-acre estate showcasing some of Tim's private collection of automobiles.

Raising prostate cancer awareness among men was one of the Schmidt family's goals and what better form to do that in but with a car show showcasing southern Ontario's best custom and performance cars and bikes with awards for grand champion, people's choice and 50 runners up.

The all-day event will also have live entertainment, by Rik Emmett formally of Triumph; The Carpet Frogs; Pop Cherry; a children's mini carnival including a giant Ferris wheel, food and beverages.

Joining Tim and Brenda will be famed members of the hit television show Counting Cars — Danny Koker and Kevin Mack. There will be raffles and 50/50 draws to help raise money for these wonderful charities. It's fun for the whole family.

Tim & Brenda's Cruise for the Cure takes place next Sunday (July 20) at 13200 Weston Rd. Doors open at 9 a.m. for patrons, with a $20 donation per car load for parking. For those competing in the car show a registration donation of $30 is asked and registration is open from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

There is a time for byelections

This week saw Toronto City council appoint two worthy citizens to join their ranks for the next couple of months.

Vacancies appeared on council because two former members left their seats to successfully seek office at other levels of government. Adam Vaughan, the former councillor in the Trinity-Spadina ward, was successful in his byelection bid to take the federal seat that Olivia Chow departed to run for mayor of the megacity to the south. Activist Ceta Ramkhalawansingh has been appointed to complete his term. And Lawyer James Maloney has taken over the seat that former councillor Peter Milczyn left to successfully run in last month's Provincial election.

So the vacancies have been filled for the next couple of months.

Yet there have been complaints heard from some commentators that these seats should have been filled through by-elections.

We have gone on the record many, many times as being in favour of exercising the democratic process whenever possible. Municipal council seats, whether they be in Caledon or Toronto, are supposed to be occupied by people who have been democratically elected by the people who are supposed to elect them, as opposed to appointment by their fellows.

But there is also a practical side to the issue. To call a byelection now, and put candidates and their families, volunteers and supporters through the stress of a campaign, not to mention the voters and municipal coffers, when they're going to have to go through the whole thing again in just a couple of months, just doesn't make a whole lot of sense.

Byelections are expensive, considering people have to be employed to work on them, locations have to be found for voting stations and there are other expenses to consider, like advertisements, etc. And that's only for the jurisdiction running the thing. The candidates themselves are put to considerable expense too. And not long after that, they would be expected to go through the whole thing again.

We have often said that democracy was meant to be many things, and dirt cheap is not on that list. But even champions of democracy are expected to use their common sense occasionally.

And according to the published reports, both Ramkhalawansingh and Maloney have indicated they have no plans to seek a full term this fall. They are simply going to occupy their respective seats until the current term has expired. The nice thing is neither of these two are going to get the leg-up in the coming campaign by running as incumbents.

True, there's very little to stop them from changing their minds between now and nomination day. In that event, they can take the issue up with their constituents.

We grant this is not the perfect way to address vacancies on any council. And if it were early in the term, we would be happy to advocate for byelections to fill them.

But with just a couple of months to go, this alternative works rather well.

Where were Green?

I am a Grade 4 student and I go to Alton Public School. We were learning about the vote, but when we talked about the leaders' debate, I found out the Green Party wasn't invited, and that isn't fair for them because they should be able to go like all the other parties.

If we don't hear what they have to say, how are we supposed to know if we should vote for them or not? Even if they are a small party, if they aren't invited, then why should anyone else be?

Rachel

Councillors are our employees

It is with great interest that I read your editorial, concerning the outcome of the Provincial election, and linking it with the Canadian Tire issue in Bolton.

We know that the particular area is destined to be industrial land, but for your information there are dozens of non-polluting industries and industries that will provide good jobs with excellent pay.

I presume that whoever wrote the article is a knowledgeable investigative reporter, or, is he/she a biased (in favor of Caledon council) reporter?

I don't know if the writer in question knows that the Bolton councillors, Rob Mezzapelli and Patti Foley, and the rest of the councillors and Mayor are elected by the residents, and I don't care if the residents are for or against the Canadian Tire warehouse facility. One thing I and all residents expect is that this huge Canadian Tire issue should have input from the residents before even talking to Canadian Tire.

As the Caledon Citizen reporter knows from the sneaky revelations, that Caledon council knew and approved two years before the Canadian Tire issue was presented to the Bolton residents, that such handling without the residents involvement is absolutely absurd. Why are the councillors elected by the residents? They are elected to inform and discuss any big issue with the residents. Just remember we the residents of Caledon and Bolton are their employers. We are the tax payers, and we are the ones that pay their outrageous salaries.

This issue is not like re-paving a road, or putting a stop sign at the end of a road. This issue involved an area of almost a quarter the size of the town of Bolton and will affect thousands of residents, children and older people.

In my opinion we the residents of Caledon and Bolton should be able to turn the table around and be able to unilaterally give the booth to the entire current Caledon council.

It happened today

For years in this part of the world, people making their plans for Saturday nights would ask, "What's on Elwy?" The long-time host of TVO's Saturday Night at the Movies was born this day, July 10, 1926.

Wedding for Bernardo?

It was something I've always believed and I became even more convinced of it last week.

One really great way to sell newspapers is to put a picture of Paul Bernardo on the front.

He was back in the news last week, with reports in the Toronto Sun that there's some woman who might be interested in marrying him. And has that ever sparked a lot of reaction.

There are a couple of facts that I should set out.

I have very little use for Paul Bernardo; approximately the same amount of use I have for the likes of Clifford Olson, Russell Williams or Charles Manson. The only use I have for any of them is they are rather interesting characters to read about. And I know I'm not alone in that regard. The Sun doesn't put Bernardo's puss in print as often as it does because the editors have space in the paper that they don't know what to do with. They do it because they know he's going to attract readers.

Bernardo currently resides in prison — exactly where I neither know nor care. And considering what he did to get there, I have no problem with that arrangement.

In 1995, after a sensational, but well-run trial, Bernardo was found guilty of all the charges against him. One very clear memory I have from that time was the fact that a very sensational trial was going on in the United States involving O.J. Simpson. The Americans put their guy on trial very quickly, while the judicial feet in Canada seemed to be dragging. I remember hearing lots of complaints in the media and listening to radio phone-in shows about how slow the Canadian system was.

The spectacle that was the trial of Simpson was nothing short of a bloody disgrace. And as a Canadian, it made me feel good that once they got the trial of Bernardo going, things moved very efficiently. The critics in this country were basically compelled to shut up. And most people who followed the trial seemed satisfied with the verdict, believing they got the right guy. How many people in the U.S.A. reflect on the Simpson verdict with much satisfaction?

One of the very few positive points of Bernardo's arrest and trial that I remember was the way all his rights were respected. He was given a fair trial and I recall he had a lawyer who fought like a tiger for him. There are people in this society who complain that people accused of terrible crimes have too many rights. I'm not in that group. I want those accused of the most terrible crimes to be given every break the system allows for. Then once they are found guilty, we can have some additional confidence that the right person has been caught.

And let us not forget that we sometimes get the wrong guy. Some 50 years ago, people were pretty convinced Steven Truscott was guilty of the crime for which he was sentenced to death.

I remember the opening sentence in my column the week Bernardo was found guilty — "Now that the trial is over and the verdict is in, we can all say with impunity that Paul Bernardo is a certified scumbag who should spend the rest of his days and nights in the clink."

I haven't changed my mind much since then.

True, he will be eligible to apply for parole in a couple of years. The fact is I have no problem with that. The laws of this country clearly state that an incarcerated person is allowed to seek parole after a specified amount of time has been served, and as I stated above, it is important that our system makes sure the worst criminal gets access to the best benefits available. Our judicial system would quickly become a farce if anything less than that were tolerated.

Let Bernardo apply for parole a couple of years from now. He will be turned down as surely as the sun will rise tomorrow morning.

According to Wikipedia, Bernardo turns 50 next month (and many happy returns of the day). Assuming his health holds out (as if I really care), I would conservatively estimate that guy's got at least another 25 years to spend in his current situation, and I think I'm being very generous in my prediction. A more realistic estimate is when he leaves prison for the last time, he'll be on a stretcher with a sheet covering his face.

There are people in this society stupid enough to believe that Bernardo is going to be paroled sometime soon. Not going to happen. Bernardo has about as much chance of getting paroled in the next 25 years as I have of being elected Pope (by the way, I'm not Catholic). That guy is going to spend his 50th, 55th, 60th, 65th, 70th, etc., birthdays sitting in the same kind of can he sits in now. He'll likely die there too. The thought upsets me little.

There was an article in the Sunday Sun about 20 years ago, dealing with Bernardo and the conditions in which he was living. The story even included the dimensions of his cell, and if memory serves, it was eight feet by five feet. I didn't bother breaking out the tape measure (I'm not sure I even owned one at the time), but casual estimates with my eyes told me those were roughly the dimensions of the bathroom in the apartment in which I was living in those days.

"My bathroom with a TV, and that's this joker's world probably for the rest of his life," I remember thinking.

I also remember thinking that was just fine with me.

But getting back to the subject at hand, there's been a lot of fuss raised in the last week or so about Bernardo possibly getting married. At the risk of getting a lot of people mad at me, the fact is I have no trouble with that. The lady in question, who as of this writing has not been identified (and I hope she never is) is 30 years old, meaning she's an adult and fully entitled to make her own life decisions. True, there are questions about her emotional stability, but there are plenty of productive people like that in our society. And when did the rest of us get the authority to butt in?

As for the appropriateness of such a marriage, that is the business of the woman in question, Bernardo, officials who have responsibility for Bernardo and absolutely no one else. That includes you and me. What goes on between consenting adults is no more my business than what goes on between my wife and I is any of your business.

This latest development in the Bernardo story has sparked a lot of anger. I think it's very safe to say that there are a lot of people out there who are angry because Bernardo is still alive. While I understand such feelings, I am vehemently opposed to capital punishment, so I don't share them. I am happy to live in a country that does not put transgressors to death.

Since Bernardo is alive, presumably healthy and likely to remain that way for the foreseeable future, I have no problems with people corresponding with him, and vice-versa. I don't think people would object if I, as a journalist, tried to contact Bernardo. I've read that Olson and the late Peter Worthington regularly corresponded. I've also read that Manson has set some kind of record for the amount of mail he receives.

I don't know a lot about how the system works, having never been incarcerated. I would gather there's some procedure in place that allows people in prison to get married to people outside. If there is such a system, then I have no trouble with Bernardo making use of it.

I would hate to see the rules adjusted just because of a guy like Paul Bernardo. I think the last thing anyone in this country would want would be that guy getting the idea he's something special.

He's not.

Federal government is delivering results for Canadians

With the productive spring sitting of the House of Commons having come to a close, our government has delivered important legislation to address the issues that are important to Canadian families. We know that the economy continues to be the top priority of Canadians. That's why our government continues to make it our top priority. This spring, our efforts to strengthen the economy and help create jobs were bolstered by passing key aspects of our Economic Action Plan. These measures include action to better connect Canadians with available jobs, as well as deliver better training for the workforce of tomorrow.

MP Dufferin-Caledon

At the same time, our government believes that families have a right to feel safe in their homes and on their streets. This is why we continue to take steps to help improve the safety of our communities. This spring, we were able to pass a number of bills that support victims and put the safety of Canadian families first. For example, in response to concerns from victims and their families, we passed the Not Criminally Responsible (NCR) Reform Act. This bill will help ensure that the safety of communities and victims are paramount in the decision making process for those found NCR. It implements some common sense reforms, such as creating a "high-risk" designation which would block the release of those that may pose a danger to their victims or the general public, without jeopardizing their ability to receive treatment. It will also enhance victim involvement in the process and give them a more effective voice.

At the same time, we were able to introduce the landmark Canadian Victims Bill of Rights. The Victims Bill of Rights will permanently entrench the rights of victims into a single document at the federal level — a first in Canadian history. It will guarantee that the justice system recognizes a victims' right to information, protection, participation and restitution. Canadians can also be proud that our government delivered two important pieces of legislation — the Fair Elections Act and the Strengthening Canadian Citizenship Act — that will help safeguard our democracy and protect the value of Canadian citizenship. Our government will continue to work hard this summer and stay focused on what matters most to Canadians. Unfortunately, the Opposition parties are still playing petty partisan games and jeopardizing the progress we have made since the global recession. Unlike the Opposition, Canadians can count on our government to keep Canada's finances sound so that we can balance the budget in 2015, deliver more tax relief for families, and keep Canada strong and prosperous.

Take in the World Cup Final at Ritchie Bros.

As of press time, it's not known who Germany will be playing for the World Cup Sunday. But fans will be able to take in the whole spectacle on the giant video wall at Ritchie Bros. Auctioneers at 3 Manchester Court in Bolton. Doors will open at 2 p.m. and the match is scheduled to start at 3. Admission will be $2 per person or a donation of food item or sports equipment in support of Caledon Community Services or Bolton Wanderers' Soccer Club. There will also be hot food and Tim Hortons coffer, a 50-50 draw and raffle prizes.

Pride Week in Peel will start tomorrow

Pride Week in Peel Region will run from tomorrow (Friday) to July 19. That was announced by the Region recently, and Caledon council Tuesday passed a motion proclaiming the week in town. The motion stated that gay pride celebrations have become common in many Canadian cities, and that the Pride Committee of Peel is celebrating its 10th anniversary Pride Week. "It is understood that the dignity and equality of all members of the community serve as the foundation of a free, peaceful and just society," the Town's motion stated. "It remains important to recognize the essential worth of every human person and to promote the development of harmonious relationships amongst all members of the community." The week will kick off with the Pride Week in Peel Festival, taking place at the Mississauga Celebration Square Amphitheatre tomorrow from 5 to 11 p.m. The Festival will feature performances, a public march, community booths and a dance party. Ending off the week will be the 11th annual Pride Day Picnic July 19 from noon to 8 p.m. at Chinguacousy Park in Brampton. "There are so many ways to get involved" commented Kevin Rambally, a Pride Week in Peel Planning Team member, "and we are so excited about the growth of the week!" For volunteer and other opportunities, go to the Pride Week in Peel website at prideweekinpeel.ca

One year to go to the Games

Today (Thursday) is Pan Am/Parapan Am Day in the Town of Caledon. Town council passed a motion to that effect at Tuesday's meeting, recognizing the fact the Games are due to open July 10, 2015. The Town will be hosting a celebration to mark year remaining before the Games this Saturday (July 12) from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Caledon Equestrian Park. This is the facility where equestrian events for the Games will be taking place. The free festivities will offer something for everyone, as those attending will be able to participate in activities that represent the Pan American countries that will be taking part. Caledon Equestrian Park is at 200 Pine Ave. in Palgrave and has a fully functioning restaurant on-site where signature food items from Pan American countries will be featured.

AIRFIELD ACTION GROUP PLANNING FIRST AGM
The New Tecumseth, Caledon, King, Citizens for Clean Water (NTCK—CCW), an incorporated and not-for-profit organization questioning the quality of fill at the Tottenham Airfield (formerly known as the Volk Airport) and the effects possible contaminated fill could have on the neighbouring water supplies and the Oak Ridges Moraine, will host its first Annual General Meeting July 15 at the Tecumseth Pines Recreation Centre (Highway 9 at Tottenham Road) from 7 to 9 p.m. The group's slogan is "We won't accept Toronto's garbage, so why would we accept their soil?" Representatives from NTCK—CCW were at the Tottenham Community Week street festival last Saturday.

Mulcair was the only loser

NATIONAL AFFAIRS
Claire Hoy

There I was staring at my laptop in Whitehorse, Yukon — temporarily distracted by a bald eagle soaring by outside — trying to find results for the four federal by-elections when, like many Canadians, I learned that Liberal Leader Justin Trudeau was the big winner. Indeed, a Canadian Press story filed not long before all the votes were counted — and remember, CP is allegedly our "neutral" news source — I was astounded to learn that not only had Trudeau's Liberals won two ridings in Toronto (one of which had been heavily Liberal forever; the other clearly a victory for a strong local candidate), but I was informed that Trudeau's supposed magical qualities had extended even into Alberta, where Liberal has been a four-letter word since Justin's father Pierre imposed the National Energy Program decades ago. The CP story breathlessly reported that in Fort MacMurray, where all the Tory candidate normally has to do is put his name on the ballot, the Tory had just "eked" out victory, surely a positive sign for Liberals in the next federal election. "Eked?" The Tory had 49 percent of the vote, 14 points ahead of the Liberal. To be sure, it was a better Liberal showing than the last election, but it's the first time in my decades of covering politics I'd ever seen a candidate win nearly half the vote and been categorized as "eking" out a victory. Next day, checking all the mainline newspapers across the country, I was further informed that Trudeau was the big winner and Prime Minister Stephen Harper really should consider getting out while the getting is good, pretty much the same theme as the previous round of by-elections where the Tories, again, held onto their seats. This is what passes for good journalism these days: the theme: Trudeau the Younger is new, fresh, and exciting; Harper the Veteran is old hat, crusty and unpopular. Therefore, Trudeau is clearly on his way to becoming our next prime minister. But is this true? Well, we won't know for sure until the next election, but based on the results of the last two rounds of by-elections, it's a pretty shaky scenario. Yes, Trudeau's Liberals have done well. But so have the Tories. They keep winning all their current seats. And if they do that — arithmetic being what it is — they'll win the next election, too. The real story isn't that Harper is under duress — since the actual election results completely debunk this theory — but that NDP Leader Thomas Mulcair is in serious danger of being displaced as Leader of Her Majesty's Loyal Opposition by Trudeau. It's the NDP who are getting squeezed by the Liberals, not the Tories, a factual reality which the media is generally ignoring in their rush to paint Harper — a guy they don't like — as yesterday's man. One of the few mainline journalists who offered fact-based analysis of the by-election results was Chris Selley in the Saturday's National Post. Responding to the widely reported Liberal electoral surge under Trudeau, Selley actually added up the Liberal votes cast and compared them with the Liberal votes in the last election and found the total Liberal vote increased by — wait for it — 67 votes. "Certainly there is nothing in Monday's results to discourage Liberals," writes Selley. "Or to argue against the notion that Trudeau is selling something Canadians want to buy. But if Canadians don't actually buy it — i.e. if they don't vote — that hardly matters." Much has been made of the Liberal increase in Alberta, but an honest reading debunks the notion of a Trudeau surge. Yes, they gained share in percentage terms, but that was primarily because the voter turnout hit record lows; i.e. voters, who are overwhelmingly Tory, knew their guy would win so why bother showing up. That allowed the anti-Tory vote, such as it is, to appear stronger. Even then, it still wasn't close. In Scarborough, where Liberals have cake-walked for years, they did it again. Here too, their vote total dropped 6,000 from 2011, largely from a low turnout, but still not a strong indication of a new Trudeaumania sweeping the land. Of the four by-elections, only one really meant something, and that was city councillor Adam Vaughan's convincing Liberal win over the NDP in Trinity-Spadina, a long-time NDP stronghold vacated when by Olivia Chow, the late Jack Layton's wife, decided to run for Toronto's mayor. Here again, it was more likely Vaughan's popularity than any supposed Trudeau magic that did it. The truth is, after two rounds of by-elections, the so-called Orange Wave has been washed away. The NDP is hurting, not the Tories. Harper is holding his seats — a rarity for governments in by-elections — but Mulcair is losing to the Liberals. It may not be as exciting to write about a second-place battle, but, based on actual voting results so far, it sure is a lot more honest.

GREAT GOLF IN MULLIGANS FORE MATTHEW
A good crowd of golfers was out recently for the second annual Mulligans Fore Matthew at Caledon Country Club. This fundraiser for Cystic Fibrosis Canada has been organized by Matthew's parents Adam and Gillian Maramieri of Valleywood. Matthew, 2, was diagnosed with the deadly disease shortly after his birth. His parents report the event this year raised $30,700, which was a big increase from the $17,000 raised last year. They also said Scotiabank contributed $5,000. Seen here, surrounding a picture of Matthew, are Gillian and Adam Maramieri, Graham Hill of Cystic Fibrosis Canada and Lucy Sanzo, Karen Marciano, Danila Maric and Matt McClure of Scotiabank.

Bolton Dodgers dedicate 8-5 win to their late manager

Tony Gemmiti's son Michael went three-for-four with a home run in Sunday's match.

By Jeff Doner

After being rained out last Thursday in Angus, the Bolton Dodgers senior men's baseball team returned home to North Hill Park Sunday for a tilt with the Nobleton Cornhuskers.

It was an emotional one for the Dodgers, as it was their first game back since their manager Tony Gemmiti passed away.

The team released a statement after the game:

"The Bolton Dodgers got the win in honour of their late manager, Tony Gemmiti. Tony managed the team and core group of players for over 10 years. He always managed the game with a smile on his face and a positive attitude. On the first game since the funeral ceremony, the Dodgers offense was fuelled by Tony's son, Michael, who went three-for-four with a home run. It was an emotional game for Michael, but he couldn't have honoured his father in a better way. Tony would be proud of his son's strength and determination. The team is honouring a great man by donning a patch on their right sleeve with 'T.G. #42' on it, which is Tony's initials and jersey number."

The game started with a run by Nobleton in the top of the first, but the Dodgers were unwilling to let the game slip away, tying things up in the bottom of the inning when Gemmiti brought in a run on a double. Gemmiti later scored on a hit by Marlon Young to take a 2-1 lead.

From then on, the teams traded runs back and forth, until the bottom of the fifth inning, when the Dodgers offense broke through.

With the score tied 5-5, Bolton loaded the bases with two out. Tyson Hanson hit a triple to score three runs and give the Dodgers a 8-5 lead.

That score stood and the Dodgers kept their post-season chances alive with the win. The Dodgers currently sit three points out of a playoff berth, with just six games left.

"It was a solid game overall, but we've got to win four or five of the next seven to get into the playoffs," Gemmiti said postgame.

"We've got to get that done and the schedule is in our favour, so I think it's definitely do-able."

Bolton Brewers

The Brewers earned another victory last week, this time downing the Creemore Braves 3-2 on the road to help them keep their grip on first place in the North Dufferin Baseball League standings.

Andrew White threw a solid complete game for the Brewers, allowing two runs on four hits, with eight strikeouts. The Braves got to him early to take a 2-0 lead in the first inning, but eventually the Brewers offered their pitcher some run support in the third, when Brett Barwick hit a two-run single to tie things up.

The game stayed tied 2-2 until the top of the seventh inning, when the Brewers scored a lone run to take a 3-2 lead.

White shut things down in the bottom of the frame to help his team solidify the 3-2 win.

"We're feeling pretty good at this point," said manager Mike Wallace. "It's that time of year again where we start get ready for playoffs, so any time we're able to come out with a win like we did against Creemore, we'll take one."

The Brewers currently own a 17-3 record with 34 points, just ahead of the second place Ivy Leafs with 32 points.

They will look to extend their lead over Ivy this week when they visit them tomorrow (Friday) night.

NDBL All-Stars put on performance at Mansfield

Sunny and warm weather graced the North Dufferin Baseball League All-Star Game Saturday at Mansfield Community Park and hosted by the Mansfield Cubs.

The annual contest included a senior game with the East Division Stars defeating the West Division 5-3 and a Junior game which ended in a 2-2 tie for the Reds and Blues.

The 50th senior all-star game got underway at 1 p.m. and remained scoreless until the fourth inning, when the East Division scored a run. In the fifth inning, the West Division answered back and scored two runs. The East scored again in the eighth with the West doing the same to go up 3-2.

In the ninth inning, the West Stars looked to have the game in hand until a third out call was appealed and overturned, continuing the game. Three runs for the East Stars crossed the plate. The West, as home team, was unable to answer in the bottom of the inning and went down in defeat by a score of 5-3.

Most Valuable Players selected for the game were Andrew Bukovec of the Aurora Jays on the winning side and for the West Division Logan Wallace from Mansfield. Bukovec pitched three scoreless innings, giving up three hits, one walk, while striking out five. Wallace went one for two at the plate and hit a two-run homer.

Following the senior game, the players of the 21st junior all-star game took to the field. The nine inning contest was structured to have a combination of players from each of the eight junior clubs on both all-star teams pitting teammate against teammate and adding an interesting flare to the game.

The Blues started the scoring with one run in the first frame. The Reds scored their first run in the fifth inning to tie. In the seventh, the Blues again scored to go up, but failed to hold onto the win when the Reds plated a run in the ninth frame. The game ended in a 2-2 tie.

MVP honours went to Nathan Dix of Orillia for the Blues, batting 3 for 4 with two doubles and scoring once. Devon Wu of Aurora was named MVP for the Reds. Wu pitched three innings and allowed one run on two hits while striking out six batters.

NOVICE BANDITS VICTORIOUS AT TOURNAMENT

The Caledon Bandits novice lacrosse team were victorious recently at the Braver than Brave Tribute Tournament in Oshawa. The local heroes prevailed over seven other teams taking part. The team consists of Andrew, Douglas Cameron, Nic DeSantis, Jeremy Fancett, Jake Ford, Jeremy Fancett, James Keiller, Thomas Keiller, Owen Kyle, Owen Lewis, JJ Marchesan, Andrew McClure, Nicholas Regina, Tyler Robinson, Hayden Simpson, Quade Sullivan and Ryan Tizzard. The coaches are Gianni Regina, Jason Fancett and Neil Sullivan. Joey Jacome and Logan Lyons are also on the team but were not able to make the tournament, along with Coach Ron Lyons.

Hot action as regular season ends in Inglewood Ball Hockey League play

The regular season is in the books in the Inglewood Ball Hockey League (IBHL), with George's Arena Sports posting nothing but wins.

They closed out the campaign with an 8-0 win over Caledon Hills Cycling.

The round robin playoff roud was slated to start this week.

The main development in the final week of play saw Mr. Handyman breaking the tie for second place in the standings, finishing the campaign two points up on We Are Creative.

lead them into the playoffs in true Carney style.

Mike Tarasco opened the scoring in the first for We Are with Cody Doiron getting the assist. And with that assist, Doiron was able to secure the league scoring title.

The second frame was quiet, with neither team being able to find the back of the net. In the third, Carney went to work and Ryan Zimmerman netted one to draw the game to a draw with Chris Chidwick adding the helper. With time running down, Ricky Minhaus put one in which turned out to be the winner with help from Will Crowe and keeper Eddy Gaffney.

In a hot-tempered match that saw both teams lose their cool, Mr. Handyman was able to pull off the win and nail down second spot in the standings.

Twine ticklers for Handyman were Sonny Dillhon and Anthony Villari, both with a brace and helped by Mike Chiarantano, Mike Volpe and Val Melo.

Ron's tire traction was from Noel Fortner, Colin Bromley and Taylor Elkins, with assists going to Elkins, Alex Boughan and Fortner.

The previous week was a good one for Ron's, as they won both their Tuesday and Thursday night matches.

Caledon Hills started out strong, jumping to a 3-1 lead by the end of the second frame with goals from Kelvin Young from Brandon Sinclair and Sandy Shand, Travis Cassar from Kyle Dalcin and Dave Philips, and Cassar from Philips and Peter Anselmi to get things going for.

Ron's lone marksman in the first two frames was Fortner from Chris Reid. The third period saw the Tire guys put the pedal to the floor and squeal away with three to get the win. Elkins from Boughan and Fortner, Boughan from Fortner, and Chris Gikov from Cory Atwater and Reid earned Ron's the win.

TEMPORARY CLOSURE TO CALEDON TRAILWAY

Both entrances to the Caledon Trailway from Airport Road in Caledon East will be temporarily closed to install crossing signage for the trail.

The Town has announced construction is expected to begin this week and continue through to July 18, weather permitting. Signage will direct trail users through a temporary detour during this time.

DEATHSDEATHS

WHYNDHAM "Whynn" R. Kervin, 64, of Riverview, NB, passed away peacefully at The Moncton Hospital on Saturday, July 5, 2014. Born in Moncton, NB, he was the son of the late Clarence and Elizabeth (Hudson) Kervin.

Whynn was a retired Grocery Clerk having worked in Ontario and New Brunswick. He was a music enthusiast, enjoyed playing his guitar and took great joy in spending time with his friends and family. Whynn will be sadly missed by his loving wife of over 44 years, Diane (LeBlanc) Kervin of Riverview; sons, Timothy Kervin (Suzette) of Brampton, Brent Kervin and Nicholas Kervin, both of Toronto; cherished grandchildren, Christopher and Grace; brothers and sisters, Clarence Jr. Kervin (Kim) of Riverview, Betty Heskett (Raymond) and Clayton Kervin, both of Moncton, Lindsay Kervin (Rita) of Irishtown, NB; several nieces, nephews and extended family members.

Visitation was at Fergusons Funeral Home, 1657 Mountain Road, Moncton (506-858-1995) on Tuesday from 2:00 to 4:00 pm and 7:00 to 9:00 pm. A Celebration of Life Service for Whynn was held at Fergusons Funeral Home Chapel on Wednesday, July 9, 2014 at 1:00 pm with Rev. Laurence Quin-Morris officiating. Reception followed the service in the Funeral Home Reception Centre. Interment to be held in Our Lady of Calvary Cemetery, Dieppe, NB. If so desired, donations in Whynn's memory can be made to the Canadian Cancer Society or memorial of the donor's choice. Online condolences at www.fergusonsfuneralhome.com

Markdale Site would be appreciated by the family. A tree will be planted in memory of Darrell in the Dods & McNair Memorial Forest at the Island Lake Conservation Area, Orangeville. A dedication service will be held on Sunday, September 14th, 2014 at 2:30 p.m. (Condolences may be offered to the family at www.dodsandmcnair.com)

CARD OF THANKSCARD OF THANKS*CARD OF THANKS*CARD OF THANKS*CYR, Dylan Graham

May 3, 1992 - April 14, 2014

The family of the late Dylan Graham Cyr wish to extend sincere thanks and appreciation to everyone who sent flowers, fruit baskets, brought food, made memorial donations to ABC Peel, sent a card, called, on-line condolences through Egan Funeral Home or the Facebook page created by Dylan's friends; the many family, friends and neighbours who attended the service and Celebration of Life; Dylan's friends and their families who reached out to us to share the special way Dylan touched your lives. Your expressions of sympathy and support make Dylan's sudden loss a little easier. It gives us much comfort knowing that so many people loved Dylan and are thinking of us as we grieve our son's death.

A special thank you to Sally Drew and Ryan Raposo, we deeply appreciate the kind words and stories you shared about Dylan in your eulogies, to Sally for also designing the memorial cards; to Dr. Bill Webster for your words of comfort during the service and for your counselling; to Veronica

Duperly and Mike Perzel for putting together the photo presentation of Dylan with his friends; to Cam Bell who performed CPR; York EMS and the emergency staff at Humber River Hospital who all tried to revive Dylan; to Hagop Hovsepian for your comfort and support at work, at the hospital and in the days that followed; to Deanna Huclack for your support and help with arrangements; to Andrew Groen, who traveled from Nova Scotia; to Ann & Pete Kijinski, who traveled from Ohio. Thank you to everyone at Egan Funeral Home for your support and to the staff at Glen Eagle Golf Club for the lovely reception.

Through the memories that Dylan gave each of us, he will live on forever in the hearts of all who mourn with us.

Though we will love & miss Dylan forever, we are grateful for the 22 years we had with him. We are so proud of the wonderful young man he became.

Sincerely,
 Mike, Barb, Cole & Jennifer
